

THE POINT

THE POINT EARNS PRESTIGIOUS FIVE-STAR HOTEL AWARD BY FORBES TRAVEL GUIDE IN ITS OFFICIAL 2018 STAR RATING ANNOUNCEMENT

The Point Has Received Forbes' Coveted Five -Star Award for 19 Consecutive Years

Saranac Lake, NY - (February 23, 2018) - Forbes Travel Guide unveiled its annual Star Rating list this week naming The Point, an exclusive, year-round 11-room Relais & Châteaux resort and former Great Camp of William Avery Rockefeller II, as a Forbes Travel Guide Five-Star hotel. The Point has been honored to receive this coveted recognition for 19 consecutive years, and is among a prestigious club of only 199 hotels globally to receive the Forbes Five-Star award in 2018. Forbes Travel Guide's luxury travel ratings have been one of the gold standards in the hospitality industry since 1958.

Adirondack Great Camps were grand and romantic log mansions built by Gilded Age magnates (the Vanderbilts and Astors, Guggenheims and Rockefellers) along the rugged lakeshores of upstate New York. An original Great Camp built by William Avery Rockefeller II nearly a century ago as his family's private residence, today The Point is a year-round, intimate, all-inclusive, Adirondack resort situated on 75 private acres on Upper Lake Saranac in Saranac Lake, NY.

"We are thrilled to be recognized by Forbes Travel Guide and receive this coveted award year after year for nearly 20 years," says Cameron Karger, General Manager for The Point. "On a daily basis, we are committed as a team at The Point to offer our guests an experience of luxury, privacy and authenticity few can match. We will work to continuously elevate the experience for our loyal patrons while hopefully introducing new guests to an exceptional stay at The Point."

"We are pleased to honor the 2018 Star Rating recipients, an outstanding collection of hotels, restaurants and spas that demonstrates a strong culture of service," said Gerard J. Inzerillo, Chief Executive Officer of Forbes Travel Guide.

"In an online environment of confusion and clutter, Forbes Travel Guide is the most trusted source of information to assist guests in making informed decisions," Inzerillo said. "These properties, the largest and most global group in the company's history, achieve an impeccable standard of excellence in hospitality, underscoring our overall mission of positively contributing to the international tourism industry as well as individual hotel experience. We are proud to congratulate everyone associated with the prestigious properties recognized today."

For a detailed explanation of how Forbes Travel Guide compiles its Star ratings, click here.

There is a tradition of elegant dining at The Point where guests gather as the high society of the Gilded Age once did at vibrant house parties deep in the forest. The Great Hall is where guests at The Point typically dine together and enjoy the cuisine of Executive Chef Loic Leperlier, a veteran of a three-Michelin-star restaurant and Five-Star resorts in Europe and French Polynesia. Dinner attire is worn throughout the week, while formal black tie attire is suggested on Wednesday and Saturday evenings as homage to the Gilded Age dining tradition of the Rockefellers.

-more-

Each season holds special delights in the Adirondacks. In the summer and fall, guests at The Point can take part in a myriad of on-property activities including lake swimming, waterskiing, wakeboarding, tubing, picnicking, walking, hiking, croquet, boating (canoes, kayaks and Budsins [mahogany electric boats]), fishing, tennis and badminton. Guests can also enjoy captained adventures on a 33' 1933 replica Hacker-Craft, a hand-constructed mahogany speed boat. And, as the sun sets, The Point's Elco launch, a glass enclosed electric boat, offers guests an evening cocktail cruise on Upper Lake Saranac's shimmering waters.

The winter season is magical at The Point with fresh snow twinkling like diamonds throughout the property nearly daily. Each guest room has a cozy private fireplace where to curl up and read a book and enjoy a hot toddy. The Point offers a plethora of outdoor winter activities including miles of private cross-country skiing and snowshoeing trails; ice-skating, curling and ice-fishing on the lake, in addition to outdoor snow barbecues every Saturday under the snow-capped pines, at the outdoor fire pit overlooking beautiful ice covered Upper Saranac Lake.

About Forbes Travel Guide

Forbes Travel Guide is the only independent, global rating system for luxury hotels, restaurants and spas. Started as Mobil Travel Guide in 1958, the company created the first Five-Star rating system in the United States. Today, Forbes Travel Guide's incognito inspectors travel the world, evaluating properties based on up to 900 rigorous, objective standards. The company's annual Star Ratings, reviews and daily travel stories help discerning travelers select the world's best luxury experiences. For more information about Forbes Travel Guide, visit www.forbestravelguide.com.

About The Point

The Point is an intimate and exclusive 11-room, year-round, all-inclusive Adirondack resort situated on a secluded 75-acre peninsula stretching into Upper Saranac Lake in Saranac Lake, NY. A Great Camp of the Great North Woods, The Point was built by William Avery Rockefeller II as his family's private retreat in the early 1930s. The Point is a member of Relais & Châteaux (designated as the first Relais & Châteaux property in North America in 1983), consistently receives the coveted Forbes Five-Star designation (awarded annually from 1999 - present) and is the only Forbes Five-Star property in New York State located outside of New York City. The Point is a winner of numerous Andrew Harper's Hideaway Report, Condé Nast Traveler, Elite Traveler and Travel + Leisure awards. For additional information call 800-255-3530; 518-891-5674 or visit www.thepointsaranac.com.

###

Media Contact:

Stephanie Loeber

Loeber Communications

Ph: 617-510-0577

E-mail: stephanie@loebercommunications.com